CHARACTERISTICS

The Bullish Left Right Combo consists of a Doji followed by a Bullish Engulfing Candlestick.

It can appear anywhere on a stock chart but the most significant is when it is part of:
- Bullish reversal
- Pullback or consolidation in an uptrend.
- Pullback or consolidation prior to or upon a breakout.
- Oversold condition
- Double bottom formation

A variation of this combo to look for is a hammer, inverted hammer or other small bodied candlestick followed by the Bullish Engulfing candlestick.

TRADE SETUP

Entry possibilities on the day after the Bullish Engulfing candlestick
- At the open
- At the halfway point or higher of the Bullish Engulfing candlestick
- At a breakout above the Bullish Engulfing candlestick or breakout of a consolidation pattern

Stop
- Typically around the lowest of the close of the Doji candlestick or the Bullish Engulfing candlestick.

Exit possibilities
- At a resistance level
- Upon a candlestick sell signal
- At a predetermined target per the trader’s plan such as a percentage or dollar amount.

---

!LR Combo Bullish Reversal Chart
BULLISH LEFT RIGHT (LR) COMBO

LR Combo

Trade Entry Candlestick

LR Combo Consolidation in Uptrend

LR Combo Upon Bullish Breakout

Trade Entry Candlestick could be Bullish Engulfing Candlestick above breakout or the next day on an inside day candlestick.